IV. Federal Financial Assistance Funding Opportunity Description

Proposers are encouraged to fully read and comply with all requirements contained in this RFP. Failure to provide all forms, information and documentation required, shall result in rejection of the application as non-responsive.

Background

Florida’s Urban and Community Forestry grant program (UCF) was originally authorized in the Forestry Title of the 1995 Farm Bill passed by the 107th Congress. Section 589.28, Florida Statutes, authorizes FDACS to cooperate with local governments to promote the planting and protection of trees to improve the beauty and livability of urban environments within the state of Florida.

The Urban and Community Forestry (UCF) grant funds provided through the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) Forest Service are administered in each of the fifty states through the office of the state forester.

The state foresters provide national leadership for the implementation of UCF programs at the state level. The National Association of State Foresters works closely with the USDA Forest Service, members of Congress and national conservation organizations to provide for adequate UCF funding, a responsible national UCF policy and progressive strategies to manage and replant our nation’s community forests.
The growth of our national population and the accompanying development of urban centers and the surrounding rural areas have resulted in the continual loss of natural areas and tree cover. Trees provide many benefits to people living in cities and towns including energy conservation through shade, wildlife habitat, decreased storm water runoff, cleaner air, production of oxygen, removal of carbon dioxide and increased property values. It is through these and other benefits that trees contribute to the health, safety and welfare of people living in cities and towns. The primary goal of this grant is to promote professional management and build resilient urban forests in Florida cities, towns, and communities. Studies have shown that in our cities more trees are removed than are planted and that the average lifespan of a tree in inner city areas is only seven years.

Funds will be allocated to regions based on population. FDACS reserves the right to transfer surplus funds from one region of the state to another to fully utilize federal funding.

Overview

The purpose of Florida's UCF Grant Program is to provide financial assistance to local governments, Native American tribal governments, volunteer groups, nonprofit organizations, and educational institutions to initiate or enhance local urban and community forestry programs and improve the urban environment within the state of Florida. The state of Florida anticipates an allocation of $160,000 for fiscal year 2017. The primary purpose of this UCF grant program is not beautification through tree planting, but to develop and enhance urban and community forestry programs. Total funding available for demonstration or site-specific tree planting projects not including hurricane tree recovery and biodiversity projects will be limited to about 20% of available funds or ($32,000). Tree planting projects are limited to a maximum award of $10,000 per applicant.

The UCF grant program is intended to help local governments, Native-American tribal governments, volunteer groups, nonprofit organizations and educational institutions get programs started and is not meant to be a continual funding source for staffing. The UCF grant will fund staffing for no more than three grant years.

The US Forest Service has directed the FFS to focus on assisting communities to strengthen their urban forestry programs in the following four core areas:

1. Active involvement by community tree boards or citizen tree advisory groups.
2. Development of urban tree management plans based on current inventory data.
3. Program oversight by qualified professional staff or professional consultant.
4. Development of a tree ordinance that will enforce community tree care standards.

Addressing these four areas will involve education of citizens, local officials, and tree care professionals. Encouraging volunteer and citizen group participation in these activities is also a key to program success. Some demonstration areas to show good urban forestry practices are also helpful and will be funded to a limited extent under this grant program.

Scope

There are four grant categories:

1. Local Government Program Development or Improvement
2. Demonstration or Site Specific Projects
3. Non-Profit Administration
4. Information and Education
Category 1: Local Government Program Development or Improvement

Qualified Applicants: Local governments, state governments, educational institutions, and Native American tribal governments (non-profits apply under Category 3).

Activities in this category focus on improving UCF technical assistance at the local level. Priority will be given to projects which initiate community forestry programs or enhance a local government's ability to develop and maintain a comprehensive tree management program. Projects must yield tangible results which provide a basis for improving UCF programs.

The maximum grant allocation is $25,000 in this category.

Up to 10% of the awarded grant funds can be used for reimbursement of in-house staff time devoted to execution or oversight of these projects. Additional staff time can be used as match.

Subcategories of Category 1:

1. Ordinance Development or Revision – this includes costs associated with reproduction, mailing or consultant fees to develop or revise a tree protection ordinance. Funding is limited to $25,000.

2. Tree Inventories – this is for the development of a local tree inventory/hazardous tree inventory on non-federal public properties (includes parks, rights-of-way and preserves). This can include the purchase of hardware, software, and related equipment, as well as fees paid to vendors to conduct the inventory. Funding is limited to $25,000.

3. Management or Master Plans – this is for the development of a management plan to guide the management of urban trees on non-federal public properties. Funding is limited to $25,000.

4. In-House Training - this is for the development of (or improvement of) an in-house UCF training package. This can include instructor fees, but not travel. Funding is limited to $20,000.

5. Staffing - this is for the employment of an urban forestry professional, technician, or consultant. The UCF grant is to help local governments get programs started and is not meant to be a continual funding source for staffing. Staffing is limited to three grant years of funding from this program, and funding is not guaranteed from one year to the next. Funding is limited to $20,000. The narrative should include activities (deliverables) that this position will accomplish during the grant period.

6. Student Internships – this is for the employment of a student intern in urban forestry or a student from a related field of study for the development of or improvement of a UCF program. Funding is limited to $20,000. The narrative should include activities (deliverables) that this position will accomplish during the grant period.

7. Equipment - for the purchase of field data recording equipment and computer software. Funding is limited to $4,000.

8. Green Infrastructure - this is for projects showing why and how cities can and should consider urban forests as a vital component of their ‘green infrastructure’. Local Governments will map, evaluate, protect, and restore their urban forests to achieve better stormwater management and clean water. This can include the purchase of software and hardware, as well as fees paid to vendors to conduct the canopy analysis and ‘green infrastructure’ programs. Funding is limited to $25,000.

Category 2: Demonstration or Site-Specific Projects

Qualified Applicants: Local governments, state governments, Native American tribal governments, nonprofit organizations, and educational institutions.

The purpose of these projects is to establish examples of proper urban tree planting, protection and pruning in a prominent visible location. Projects must be conducted on non-federal public land or tribal community property. Species diversity, native species and site limitations should be considered when planning a project.

Highest priority will be given to projects that demonstrate correct urban forestry principles and are conducted in highly visible areas. Additional consideration for funding shall be given to smaller, rural communities or underserved neighborhoods in larger cities.

Total grants in category 2 (site-specific tree planting projects), not including hurricane tree recovery and biodiversity projects, will not exceed 20% of available state funds. All plant materials must meet the Division of Plant Industry's standards for a Florida Grade #1 specimen or be of equivalent or better quality. Proposals must include a three (3)-year maintenance plan at the grant recipient's expense. Maintenance costs incurred after certification by the FFS are ineligible for reimbursement. A resolution signed by the owner of the property must be included in the proposal package, which states that they concur with the proposal. No more than ten percent (10%) of the grant funds may be budgeted for personnel costs in this category.

Subcategories of Category 2:

1. Demonstration Tree/Palm Planting Projects on Public Property - this is for the development and installation of tree/palm planting projects which demonstrate proper urban forestry principles. Projects can demonstrate “right tree - right place” principles, utility line compatibility with appropriate species, energy conservation considerations, improvement of entranceway, community hurricane tree recovery, street tree plantings, park tree plantings or tree planting for food forests that encourage or support of economic development. Funds may only be used for purchase and planting of trees/palms. Purchase and planting of shrubs and ground covers (not sod) in conjunction with the tree planting may only serve as a matching cost, and as such, cannot be reimbursed.

   The maximum grant award for hurricane tree recovery and demonstration tree planting is $10,000.

   A 60-day “grow-in period” is required prior to Certification of Acceptance by the Department and the processing of a final reimbursement. The proposal should state how the trees will be watered and cared for during the grow-in period.

Tree Planting Requirements:

a. Trees/palms (including those planted as part of the local match) must be Florida Grade #1 or equivalent (Florida Division of Plant Industry, Grades, and Standards).
b. Trees may not exceed a 4-inch caliper. Palms may not be taller than 16 feet, clear trunk.

c. Minimum tree size is 1 and 1/2-inch caliper, in at least a 15-gallon container.
