Please see the revised answer to Question 6 of the Technical Questions and Answers document below:

Question 6. Page 24 Section C.2 - How many discrete data sources will be needed?

DEO Response: Data comes from the Florida Education and Training Placement Information Program (FETPIP) and the Office of Student Financial Assistance (OSFA) both at the Department of Education. Labor market information is provided by the Office of Labor Market Statistics, at DEO.

All of the information provided is public information. The data are aggregated.

Specifically: Section 445.07, F.S., requires the Florida Department of Economic Opportunity to make available, to the public, an on-line tool that provides students, parents and others with outcome information on the employment and earnings of Florida graduates from public institutions of higher education - state universities, state college institutions, and district technical centers. The data source for this information is the Florida Department of Education's Florida Education and Training Placement Information Program (FETPIP) and Office of Student Financial Assistance. This information is intended to provide students, parents and others with a preliminary view of the type of information that is available on Florida's Economic Success Metrics website.
